Foreword . . .

Before the season opened this publication was not included in the budget and we figured to be enjoying the holiday season before an open fireplace with nothing but the basketball season to look to. However, it is a pleasure to spend a few hours extra in doing this added chore. In this brochure we have tried to bring things up-to-date that aren't in the pre-season booklet.

You will find such things as final 10-game statistics, post-season honors won by Clemson players, a few words on the coaches and other pertinent information which should make your coverage of this Orange Bowl a little easier. You will find column notes and other facts about the team. We could by no means answer all of the questions that will come up so feel free to contact me at anytime for other information.

The Tigers will move into Miami about noon Thursday, December 27, and will be quartered at the Biltmore Terrace Hotel on the beach. Our schedule will call for a workout each day at the University of Miami prior to the game and the traveling party will leave Miami Thursday, January 3, for the return trip to Clemson.

For more detailed information, call us. We'll do our best to help.

Looking back on '56 . . .

Nearly everyone around the Atlantic Coast Conference with any football savvy tagged the Clemson Tigers as the "darkhorse" of the loop back in September. Hardly anyone figured that the Country Gentlemen would be the conference representative in the Orange Bowl January 1. Even Head Coach Frank Howard "couldn't taste orange juice unless our sophomores come through for us."

As the weeks in September, October and November ticked away the Tigers put win on top of win and when the final game with Furman December 1 was over the Men of Calhoun had dropped only one contest, tied two others and were victorious in seven. Their 4-0-1 standing in the conference was good enough for the championship and the ACC representatives voted to send the Tigers to Miami to meet Colorado of the Big Seven.

After the smashing 21-6 victory over Virginia Tech Clemson climbed to the 11th in the nation. However, the following week the 6-6 tie with Maryland dropped them to 13th and Miami's stunning 21-0 setback dropped "Howard's Bunch" completely out of the top 20. It was after the two final wins over Virginia and Furman that the Tigers entered the best-of-the-best circle and in the final weekly poll were 19th. The Buffs were just behind in 20th.

After the 27-7 win over Presbyterian in the opener, the Tigers went to Gainesville to battle the highly-rated, two touchdown favorite Florida Gators. Looking their best on offense in the first quarter, the Tigers bounded into a 14-0 lead, then in the third quarter trailed 20-14. In the final quarter with time running out Clemson scored the tying tally for a 20-20 deadlock.

N. C. State gave the Tigers a rough battle and finally went down, 13-7 as all of the scoring was done in the final quarter on a foggy, rainy night. Wake Forest felt the Tigers' claw and the Country Gentlemen triumphed 17-0. In the third straight conference game, arch rival South Carolina seldom budged a stout defense thrown up and Clemson edged by 7-0.

Virginia Tech, Maryland and Miami hit on successive weekends and the Tigers experienced their toughest three games of the year. When the smoke had cleared Clemson managed a 1-1-1 from this trio and the Orange Bowl hopes were quivering. But those two last wins over Virginia and Furman zeroed things in.

Probable starting line-up . . .

Left End—Dalton Rivers . . . caught Clemson's only touchdown pass this year . . . probably best remembered for his play against Maryland . . . caught most passes, 5 . . . civil engineering major.

Left Tackle—Dick Marazza . . . top blocker in state in '55 . . . chipped ankle bone made him miss two games this year . . . likes rugged action . . . good downfield blocker . . . drafted by pros when a junior.

Center—Donnie Bunton . . . moved up to starting center in season . . . married . . . only letterman center in September . . . calls defensive signals . . . plays one linebacking spot . . . steady, dependable.

Right Guard—John Grdijan . . . made first team as sophomore . . . oldest player on squad . . . was also married this past summer . . . strong and quick, not easily fooled.

Right Tackle—Billy Hudson . . . Clemson's outstanding lineman this year . . . earned lineman-of-the-week 3 times during season . . . drafted in third round by Chicago Cardinals . . . biggest man on the team . . . third brother to play under Howard.

Right End—Willie Smith . . . was married Dec. 15. . . . has been a regular for two seasons . . . the most consistent player on team . . . standout track and football athlete in high school . . . textile major.

Quarterback—Charlie Bussey . . . captain of the team . . . makes up for his lack of size with his smart signal calling. . . has made All-ACC scholastic team . . . hurt part of this year but never stopped going . . . made Tigers' 'T' offense click this fall.

Left Halfback—Joel Wells . . . "The Clipper" . . . most honored player on team . . . made every all conference first team 2 straight years . . . invited to play in 5 post-season games . . . alternate captain . . . married South Carolina cheerleader this summer . . . second choice of Green Bay.

Right Halfback—Jim Coleman . . . like Bussey, was in college Who's Who this year . . . straight 'B' student majoring in textiles . . . fast and elusive . . . hurt greater part of '55 . . . president of Block 'C'.

Fullback—Rudy Hayes . . . only sophomore to make starting team . . . one of most sought-after players in high school . . . was switched from halfback to fullback . . . seldom brought down by one man . . . married and a father.

Athletic personnel . . .

FRANK HOWARD, Alabama '31 . . . came to Clemson under Jess Neely upon graduation at Alabama as line coach . . . moved up to top spot in 1940 when Neely went to Rice . . . his teams have won 91, lost 61, tied 10 in 17 years . . . been at Clemson 26 years . . . a single wing man for 22 years, switching to 'T' in '53 . . . in great demand as banquet speaker . . . been with Clemson on every bowl trip, three as head man . . . known as the Bashful Baron of Barlow Bend . . . member of Alabama's 1930 Rose Bowl team under Wallace Wade . . . was All-American . . . only man in conference who serves as both athletic director and head . . . father of daughter and son.

CARL WISE, King College '37, is the most recent addition to the Clemson coaching staff, taking the post vacated by the retiring Russ Cohen, February of last year . . .

In charge of the backs, Wise came to Clemson well qualified with experience received in the Virginia high school ranks, at Bainbridge Navy during World War II, at the University of Pennsylvania, Washington and Lee University and in 1954 at Hamilton in the Canadian Professional League . . . He was head coach at Washington and Lee during the 1952 and 1953 seasons before resigning in 1954 when the Generals decided to de-emphasize football . . . Native of North Carolina, he is married to the former Jody Pate of Gate City, Va.

BANKS McFADDEN, Clemson '40, has been on the Tiger coaching staff since graduation except for one year of pro football with Brooklyn and almost four years in the Army Air Force . . . Considered the greatest all-round athlete in state history, Banks was first team All-American in both football and basketball and still holds three state intercollegiate records in track . . . Gave up head basketball coaching duties this year to devote full time as defensive backfield coach . . .

A native of Great Falls, McFadden is married to the former Agnes Rigby of Manning . . . They are the parents of four daughters, Patsy 10, Lil 8, Marcia 5 and Janice 3.

BOB SMITH, Furman '34, joined the Clemson varsity staff as a "T" specialist in 1950 on a part time basis, but has been a full time operator since 1951 . . . Former assistant and head coach at Furman, he began experimenting with the "T" while stationed at Jacksonville in the Navy during World War II . . . A three-letterman at Furman, Smith resumed his relationship with baseball in the spring of 1952 as head Tiger baseball coach . . . He was named Atlantic Coast Conference 'Coach of the Year' in 1954 as Clemson won the ACC championship . . . He's a native of Cartersville, Ga., and married to the former Catherine Jordan of Dillon .

BOB JONES, Clemson '30, has been coaching at Clemson since his graduation — first working with the freshmen and more recently with the ends . . . During his playing days with the Tigers, he was an All-South end and captain of the varsity basketball team . . . Was head boxing coach until Clemson dropped the sport . . . Came out of World War II a well-decorated full colonel and was promoted to the rank of brigadier general in the Army Reserve last year . . . A native of nearby Starr . . . He's married to the former Ellen Moseley of Anderson . . . They have three daughters, Janet 22, Rose 16 Robin 9.
